

Need Help Starting Your Business Plan? Come to One of Our Workshops!

Getting started on a business plan can be a daunting task. Without past experience in writing business plans, the process might seem impossible to manage. That's why, as a part of the Business Plan Competition, The Chicago City Treasurer's Office and Chicago Community Ventures provide free workshops to competition entrants. At the workshops, entrants will receive insight, advice and guidance as they prepare their business plans for submission.

Each workshop will be led by professionals who have extensive experience in writing business plans. Entrants can expect to leave the workshop with the tools necessary to make an extraordinary business plan.
